PURE FUNCTION IN A SIMPLE FORM

We live in a world of excess. Excess of stimuli, choices and stuff. It is therefore so crucial to consciously choose things we surround ourselves with. Let items we choose not only fulfil our desires, so that things we have are the things we really need.

YouTEAM™

Design story

The inspiration behind the chair was the idea to create a universal family of chairs, as designers call it – a “corporate family”, based on the principles of ergonomics, comfortable and highly functional.

One that could become a part of a corporate visual identification system – a chair as an element of image, not just background.

Designed by 2DO-DESIGN studio

YouTEAM™

Design story

The designers describe their first inspiration for the design as 'Cloudshape' or 'Flowshape'.

They wanted to create a chair that would have a sculptural form and a shape that is:

- streamlined
- light yet distinctive,
- graphical
- based on geometry and clear lines.
